

Griffin Spars With Nader On Car Safety

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., views Ralph Nader, the auto safety critic, as "one of the most articulate tail-twisters who ever appeared before a committee of Congress."

On the other hand, another critic of the nation's new Traffic Safety Agency, has suggested that Griffin told the costs of auto accidents before complaining added safety features might add to car prices.

These developments came Tuesday at a Senate Commerce Committee hearing on the agency's first batch of safety standards to be met by manufacturers in 1978 models.

Nader wrote the book, "Unsafe at Any Speed," which led to Congress' original investigation of auto safety and creation of the new agency.

He told the committee first standards are inadequate and accused the agency of bowing to industry pressure to soften them.

Nader also told the committee if automakers are going to complain that proposed safety features are too costly, they should be required by the agency to submit detailed figures on expenses involved.

Griffin said the logical conclusion to Nader's proposals would be government controls on automobile prices. Nader said he was not suggesting that.

Griffin also sparred verbally with William I. Stieglitz, an engineer who quit the agency in a dispute over its initial safety standards.

Like Nader, Stieglitz said standards weren't tough enough, and he also complained that the industry submitted no specific data about the potential cost of safety features it opposed and which were modified or eliminated by the agency.

Griffin said safety items raising the price of a car $125 would cost the American consumer $1 billion a year.

Stieglitz replied that automobile accidents and all the expense that grows out of them already cost the nation $9 billion annually.

Griffin said the safety agency apparently decided on modest initial standards because of the pressure of time and lack of data.

"I'm not objecting," Stieglitz said, "to the standards that took modest steps. I'm objecting to the standards that took no steps."

"You must consider the costs on both sides," Griffin sought an acknowledgment from Stieglitz that his judgment differed from that of other engineers and that he was reacting because his opinion was not accepted by Dr. William Haddon Jr., the agency's administrator.

"What I really objected to," Stieglitz said, "were standards that say nothing, that perpetuate the status quo."

Seaman Unions Threaten Tieup To Keep Jobs

NEW YORK (AP) — Three major maritime unions — fighting to save jobs for American seamen and ship officers — have threatened to tie up all American ships in U.S. ports for an indefinite length of time.

The tie-up is scheduled for next Tuesday to protest what the unions charge is a Johnson administration practice of displacing American crews on some U.S. ships with foreign nationals.

The heads of the three unions said Tuesday they will conduct protest rallies at noon Tuesday in a number of port cities across the nation.

A joint statement by the union chiefs said:

"We are calling officers and crews off all ships in U.S. ports for 12 hours in advance of the noon meetings and we cannot say when they will go back to their ships."

The three unions are two officers' unions and the National Maritime Union, which represents unlicensed personnel including seamen, engine-room workers, steward's department employees and others.

The protest statement was issued by Joseph Curran, president of the NMU; Capt. Lloyd Sheldon, president of the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots; and Jesse Calhoun, president of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association. All three unions are AFL-CIO affiliates.

The rallies on Tuesday are scheduled for New York City, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Va., Chicago, Houston, New Orleans, San Francisco, Seattle, Jacksonville, Fla., Mobile, Ala., and other ports.

The heads of the three unions said they represent 95,000 officers and crewmen.

Yanks Shatter Red's Regiment In Fiercest Of Viet War Battles

SAIGON (AP) — The Communist regiment which was shattered Tuesday in one of the Vietnam war's sharpest pitched battles lost at least 500 dead, and many more bodies were dragged from the battlefield, the U.S. Command said today.

The 2,500-man Communist force smashed into American positions in the jungles of Tay Ninh Province Tuesday. Air and artillery were still hitting their escape routes today, and U.S. troops were collecting bodies and weapons from the battlefield.

"How many dead they dragged off we really don't know," said the U.S. infantry commander at the battle. Lt. Col. John A. Bender of Bremerton, Wash. "One of our platoons reported seeing them drag at least 100 bodies back into the jungle."

The fighting cost 31 American dead and 109 wounded. Among the dead was the pilot of an artillery spotter plane and his replacement, who was flying with him on an orientation flight when their tiny craft was shot down.

"Mistake Bombing" Two other Americans were killed and 10 were wounded when two U.S. Air Force F100 jets accidentally bombed U.S. positions in the area. The U.S. Command said it was investigating.

The Tay Ninh battle climaxed 48 hours of the Vietnam war's sharpest fighting this year, with actions up and down the country, but notably in the center and just below the demilitarized zone separating North and South Vietnam. These actions subsided today.

Heavy weather over North Vietnam Tuesday again limited U.S. air strikes. Sixty-two missions were flown, mostly against coastal supply targets, though there was another raid — the fourth — on the Thai Nguyen steel plant 35 miles north of Hanoi.

The intensity of the fighting this week was underlined by the U.S. announcement today that casualties in the past two days included 78 U.S. dead, 302 Americans wounded and 829 Communists killed.

This did not include the two American soldiers killed and 10 wounded in the accidental bombing in Tay Ninh.

More than 17 air strikes were flown in that area Tuesday in support of the big battle and skirmishes going on nearby as U.S. troops continued Operation Junction City, the biggest ground sweep of the war.

and 73 were wounded by the barrages totaling more than 700 rounds which were fired at U.S. positions near Gio Linh, a mile south of the demilitarized zone.

News In Brief

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Half the 250,000 men holding occupation deferments "are neither in essential activities nor critical occupations," says Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz. He said he had been asked to approve pretzel makers as critical.

LONDON — Business firms from six nations will join in building a $280 million early warning defense system rimming West Europe from Norway to Turkey. Hughes Aircraft Co. is joining European firms in the undertaking.

DETROIT — A buzzer device warning a driver when he leaves, if he has left the key in the ignition switch and locating car number on instrument panel are steps against car theft. Both will be on General Motors 1968 cars.

WASHINGTON — The Senate again endorsed a U.S. antiballistic missile system. Then began scrapping over which cities should be protected.

SEOUL, South Korea — A North Korean newsman jumped into a U.S. general's car today at the Panmunjon truce village. He escaped to South Korea despite about 40 revolver shots from a Communist guard which shattered windows of the car.

WASHINGTON — UAW President Walter Reuther pointed today to the elderly poor as evidence Social Security benefits levels are "appallingly inadequate." He advocated a general increase of 50 per cent in benefits.

Secret Letter Effort To End War Told By Ho

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he will persist in efforts to seek peace with North Vietnam despite "regrettable setbacks." But administration officials see Hanoi's rejection of its release of a personal Johnson proposal for peace talks as a bad sign.

Johnson returned Tuesday night from a two-day Vietnam war conference in Guam. En route home he learned of Hanoi's publication Tuesday of a secret exchange of letters he had with President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam six weeks ago.

Officials said the North Vietnamese government has been informed that Johnson's proposal for talks — and for steps to de-escalate the war — is still open. But they saw no prospect of its acceptance anytime soon.

More War Coming In coming months the President is expected to increase further the military pressure on Communist forces in South Vietnam while stepping up the pounding of North Vietnam. Administration officials had hoped that military losses and bomb damage suffered by the Communists in the past two years would force them to the conference table early this year.

That hope has now been sharply deflated, by Ho's rejection of Johnson's bid, and by Ho's making public the exchange of letters. Officials said they were baffled by the publication.

There was some speculation here that Communist Chinese influence in Hanoi might be responsible, or that Ho might have decided to use the exchange as a means of attacking the Guam conference.

For Bomb Pause A persistent critic of Johnson's Vietnam policies, Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called the President's offer to Ho reasonable but urged today in an interview a halt to bombing on the chance it might pave the way to peace talks.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., another Vietnam critic, said in a statement Johnson had imposed a new condition to peace talks requiring evidence that North Vietnamese infiltration had halted before U.S. bombing will be stopped.

At the United Nations, Secretary-General U. Thant was reported to have sent messages to both North and South Vietnam proposing a cease-fire and peace talks.

Diplomatic sources said Thant's messages of last week led to Saigon's proposal of talks to Hanoi, announced following the Guam conference. There has been no announced reply from Hanoi to that bid.

Wrote In February Johnson initiated his exchange of letters in early February at the time of a Vietnamese Lunar New Year cease-fire which included a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam. The President's letter was delivered by a U.S. diplomat in Moscow to a North Vietnamese diplomat Feb. 8.

Johnson asked for secret peace talks between his and Ho's representatives in Moscow, Burma or some other place Ho might prefer. He rejected Ho's publicly stated condition that bombing of the North must be stopped unconditionally before talks could start. Instead he proposed a halt to the bombing and a freeze of the present U.S.

SCORES OF Tuscola County farmers gathered Monday near Caro, Mich., to watch more than 176,000 pounds of milk being dumped into a trench on the Erwin Reinhold farm. Other farmers had purchased cartons of milk at retail stores and dumped the contents into the trench. The milk dumping was part of the Tuscola County NFO milk holding action to drive up the price. (AP Wirephoto)

Milk Strike Hasn't Boosted Prices Yet

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Farmers Organization milk holding and dumping campaign moved into the seventh day today, but a survey showed no clear evidence of rising prices or shortages.

However, The Associated Press survey did reflect some disagreement over how much milk has been destroyed while the NFO tries to boost milk prices to dairy farmers by two cents a quart. In any case, a check showed the holding and dumping action amounted to hundreds of thousands of gallons.

The NFO claimed a victory in Omaha when retail prices rose two cents a quart and milk prices jumped one cent a quart in Austin, Minn.

Price Drop But retail prices dropped two cents a quart in Louisville, Ky. And in Logansport, Ind., a supermarket chain anticipating a shortage overstocked its milk cases. As a result, the chain was forced to sell half gallons at the bargain rate of three for 31. The usual price is 40 to 42 cents.

NFO President Oren Lee Staley, speaking from his headquarters in Corning, Iowa, remained confident.

"We sent out word to NFO members late yesterday," he said, "that we are entering on the first stage of negotiations to make our holding action successful. The success of these negotiations will depend on an ever-increasing tightening of the holding action."

Staley declined to disclose with whom he is negotiating.

ONLY TERROR CAN WIN EAST LANSING (AP) — The National Farmers Organization (NFO) continued its milk strike today amid charges by the Michigan Milk Producers Association that if the withholding action is effective, it will be because of terror tactics.

Association President Glenn Lake of North Branch also charged Tuesday that "There has been an unnecessary loss of badly needed income by those who weren't in sympathy and by those who were misled."

"NFO must bear the blame and the shame," he told the association's annual delegate meeting.

The 325 delegates, representing about 8,500 dairy farmer members, unanimously voted to deplore what they called "pressure tactics" of the NFO.

Violence Subsides Meanwhile, Col. Fredrick E. Davis, state police director, said reports from his posts Tuesday indicated that acts of vandalism and reported threats of violence had "subsided almost entirely."

Incidents had been reported through Monday. Davis said the situation was "looking bad" up to that point.

The NFO is in its seventh day of a 25-state milk withholding action aimed at boosting the price of milk for farmers. NFO members have dumped some 245,000 pounds of milk to demonstrate their determination in the strike.

In Fowler, men riding in cars bearing NFO stickers bought all the milk Tuesday in two markets, including about 100 half gallons at Harvey's Market and 100 half gallons at Frecheon's Market.

Buy To Cause Shortage The purchases were seen as a possible attempt to deplete supplies of local markets and make milk unavailable to customers who regularly depend upon the markets.

The association says the NFO withholding action has cut raw milk supplies by only about 10 per cent and says there is no shortage of bottled milk at the retail level.

Retailers report having "all the milk we need."

The NFO asserts that raw milk supplies in the 25-state area have been cut by 30 to 50 per cent.

Jack Barnes, producers association general manager, told the delegates the association has suffered a 15 per cent loss of membership in the last year, partially because of NFO action and partially because some farmers figured they could obtain benefits without paying association dues.

Oswald Lawyer Faces Perjury Charge Today

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dean A. Andrews Jr., 44, a round, jive-talking lawyer who says he once represented Lee Harvey Oswald on minor legal matters, faces arraignment today on a perjury charge.

Andrews was indicted last week by the Orleans Parish Grand Jury in its check into Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's Kennedy assassination conspiracy case.

No background of the charge had been released before the hearing.

Criminal Dist. Judge Frank Shea — a Garrison aide before his election to the bench — scheduled Andrews' arraignment.

Andrews, suspended from his post as an assistant district attorney in suburban Jefferson Parish, appeared twice before the grand jury. The indictment for perjury followed his second appearance.

In testimony before the Warren Commission, Andrews said he was contacted by phone by a "voice" he knew as Clay Bertrand following the assassination in Dallas, Tex., Nov. 22, 1963, of President John F. Kennedy. Clay Bertrand asked him to go to Dallas to represent Oswald, he said.

Garrison has charged that Clay L. Shaw, 54, a wealthy retired business executive, used the alias Clay Bertrand. Shaw has denied this.

A three-judge Criminal District Court panel decided last Friday at the conclusion of a four-day hearing that Garrison had produced sufficient evidence to hold Shaw for trial on a charge of conspiring to murder Kennedy.

Young Athletes Aid Handicapped On Good Friday

There will be a special appeal for the Delta County Easter Seal Fund in Escanaba and Gladstone on Good Friday afternoon and evening, said Clint Dunathan, Easter Seal county chairman.

Lettermen of the high schools in the two communities will, as in years past, cooperate by selling the little cloth Easter lilies for the benefit of the Easter Seal fund.

"It will be a case of the strong aiding the weak when these young men solicit in the downtown business areas for the fund that helps toward the care and recovery of crippled children and adults," said Dunathan.

They Need Your Gift.

Escanaba Area High School's Athletic Director Harold Johnson; Holy Name High School's Tom O'Neill, the Varsity Club coach; and Coach Don Pfothauer of Gladstone High School arranged for the lettermen to turn out for the solicitation to be held on Good Friday.

In Escanaba the athletes visited the handicapped children in special education rooms at the John A. Lemmer School, where they heard Luther M. Barrett, Area School superintendent, describe the needs of the children to help them achieve a more normal life.

The Holy Name High School lettermen toured the Lemmer School on Wednesday afternoon, and the Area High School athletes were there on Tuesday.

The local Easter Seal Society is affiliated with the Michigan and the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. The National Society was founded 46 years ago and has a nationwide program of direct services for the rehabilitation of the handicapped in all 50 states and the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

A total of 195,841 persons were involved in rehabilitation therapies through Easter Seals in 1965, and a research program in excess of $2,000,000 was conducted in efforts to find causes and cures.

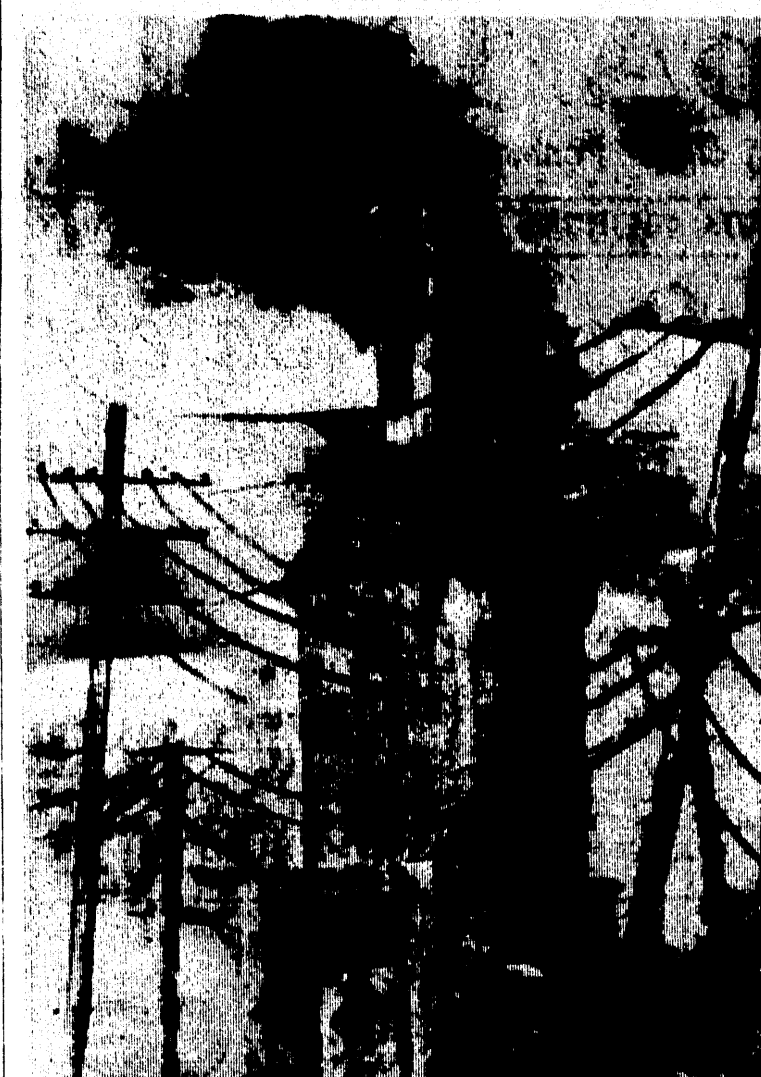

At the Delta County level the Easter Seal Society assists by providing wheelchairs, hospital beds, crutches, braces and other appliances; conducting annual special clinics for the cerebral palsy; and providing "camperships" for crippled children to Bay Cliff Health Camp.

These and other services will be supported in the special Good Friday solicitation in downtown Gladstone and Escanaba.

Persons who have not received a Delta County Easter Seals appeal letter are invited to send a contribution to Easter Seals, Carl R. Wickman, Treasurer, Escanaba.

Driver Training Changes Urged

EAST LANSING — About 1,000 driver education instructors in Michigan agree that the high school program, in which over 150,000 youths are trained to drive each year, could be greatly improved. This was the consensus of teachers after 8 Michigan Driver Education Association meetings were held throughout the state under the auspices of the State Department of Education.

The study of driver education was set up by the Highway Traffic Safety Center at Michigan State University, at request of Governor Romney.

Michigan's program, as initially conceived in 1956, is acknowledged to be one of the best in the nation. However, no major improvements have been instituted during the past 10 years, even though the driving task has become vastly more complex and new methods and materials are available.

Major recommendations of the study were: raising the minimum driver licensing age from 16 to 17; development of regional instruction media centers; institution of driver education as part of the regular school day curriculum; raising teacher certification requirements; requiring students to drive with their parents after completion of the course; and raising reimbursements to the schools to $40 per student from the present $30.

The driver education instructors also felt that parents should play a larger role in the safety education of their youngsters. It was pointed out that before entering the high school program, the youths had spent a great deal of time observing their parents' driving habits which led to early formation of their attitude toward driving.

For this reason, parents should cooperate closely with their youngster's driver education instructor by finding out more about the course being taught and how they can provide more driving experience after the course is completed. Many people seem to think that the driver education course is solely a means for their youngster to obtain a license. A high quality course should provide the student with life-long patterns of thought, action and attitude that manifest themselves in everyday responsible citizenship—as well as safety education. While math and science may help a youngster earn a living—high quality driver education may help to keep him living.

Terror Called NFO's Persuader

The president of the 8,500 member Michigan Milk Producers Association said today the milk dumping action promoted by the National Farmers Organization "interfered with the freedom that dairy farmers have to decide whether to ship their milk to market or hold it on their farms."

"MMPA has always respected the rights of its members and all farmers to make their own free choice whether to ship their milk to market, and still does."

"The NFO touted this costly and foolish milk dumping scheme as a peaceful and voluntary withholding action to be carried out with calmness and respect for the rights of all," said Glenn Lake, a dairy farmer in North Branch, Mich.

"But when they saw that less than 5 per cent of Michigan dairy farmers would go along voluntarily, they resorted to tactics of violence and terrorism."

"This vicious and lawless activity reveals the true character of some in the NFO," Lake said. "It is an attempt to do by coercion that which they couldn't do by persuasion."

"Price was never the issue in this matter. NFO never has shown any ability to market milk. They have never shown any attempt to bargain with dairies."

"When a campaign of threats and terror prevents a farmer's milk from going to market when he wants to market that milk, it is the same as if the perpetrators of the terror had actually robbed that farmer of his property at gunpoint."

"Michigan's responsible dairy farmers suffered defamation and malignment before the public because of the actions of a few lawless and vicious men, many of whom are not even dairy farmers themselves. I repeat, price is not the issue here."

"It is simply and clearly that an irresponsible organization without the ability to market milk wants to force its will on Michigan dairy farmers."

Five Injured In M-35 Crash

A Munising couple remained in St. Francis Hospital this morning with injuries suffered in the near head-on crash of two cars Tuesday afternoon on M-35 about three miles south of the Escanaba city limits.

State Police reported the accident happened about 3:30 p. m.

Listed in fair condition today at St. Francis Hospital are James Cox, 35, suffering from head lacerations, and his wife, Ruth Ann, who suffered a fractured right leg and head lacerations.

State Police said neither person was wearing a seat belt and were thrown into the dashboard and windshield in the accident.

Troopers said a car driven by Mrs. Dorothy Janke, 39, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, was following a semi-truck south on M-35 and she started to make a left-hand turn into a driveway when her car collided with the Cox vehicle. Both cars were heavily damaged, officers said.

Mrs. Janke and two sons, Theodore, 9, and Stephen, 7, were also taken to St. Francis Hospital, but were released after treatment.

Mrs. Janke was given a notice to appear by State Police for failing to yield the right of way.

Troopers also issued a notice to Joann Johnson, 20, of Rapid River, for violation of the basic speed law after a minor accident on U. S. 2 and 41 at 7:45 a. m. in Kipling.

Troopers said her car hit the rear of a car driven by Marianne Cowell, 22, of Kipling. Neither driver was injured.

Scenic Highway

Bulldozers will be pushing their way into one of Michigan's most scenic wilderness areas this spring when road building gets under way again on the long-awaited Sault Ste. Marie-Munising lakeshore highway.

The upcoming project, one of the largest contracts awarded so far on the scenic route, will push the road a short distance from a point west of Brimley into the Naomikong Point area. Another segment of about a dozen miles soon will be spanned, linking the new highway with M-123 at Emerson, thus completing the first significant phase of the highway.

Upper Michigan needs this road, just as it should have other sections of scenic highway along its Great Lakes shores. We don't subscribe to the idea of pushing a highway into every wilderness area of the Peninsula, but if we are to vitalize our tourist industry, more scenic highways are urgently needed.

The Sault-Munising route has been a long time in the talking stage. In July 1871, The Marquette Mining Journal noted plans of a "state road from Sault Ste. Marie to Marquette, with Grand Marais and Grand Island Harbor (Munising) being on the line."

Ever since the automobile took tourists off the main trails and onto the Peninsula bypaths, groups have been formed to get action on a Sault-Munising shoreline road. Lansing hasn't been responsive. We hope current promotional efforts will meet with more success.

The National Park Service plans to build an all-weather route from Munising to Grand Marais through the newly-created Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore. At a Senate field hearing in Escanaba several years ago, a spokesman for the Michigan Highway Department said every effort would be made to build the Sault-Grand Marais section (with substantial federal funds) as an "access highway" to the national lakeshore.

The road, as surveyed, would go mainly through sandy pine country of the Lake Superior State Forest, thus keeping construction and right-of-way costs to a minimum.

As an alternate to the Canadian North Shore route, the highway should attract many tourists who might otherwise go on into Canada. It also would offer an alternate route to the Seney Swamp stretch for motorists headed for Marquette and the Copper Country.

The lakeshore road has been considered by the state for almost a century now, so let's complete the job.

Aims For Adequacy

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Whenever major monetary expansion of the Social Security system is proposed, as is again the case this year, puzzlement arises as to the real nature of the program and its possible parallels with private insurance operations.

Under President Johnson's 1967 proposals, presently the subject of three weeks of hearings before the House Ways and Means Committee, an over-all 20 per cent increase in cash benefits is contemplated — which would add $4.5 billion to Social Security outlays in calendar 1968.

Critics have jumped in to argue that the system is increasingly taking on the aspect of a welfare program rather than an insurance setup. Old charges are raised that the Social Security administration does not maintain adequate reserves to meet its obligations, and that it allows pension fund money to be used for other government purposes.

Social Security officials have been trying to answer the first of these old charges for years — long before California's Gov. Ronald Reagan contended in his famous pro - Goldwater speech of 1964 that the system was $350 billion in the red.

The official answer is that a compulsory national insurance program, based on mandatory taxes and able to calculate with some accuracy the addition of new entrants (and their contributions) into the system, need not maintain massive reserves.

Said Social Security fund trustees in their 1966 report: "An insurance company must set up reserves equal to all currently accrued liabilities, since it cannot compel individuals to become new policyholders and must be in a position at any time so . . . it can pay all benefits that will become due with respect to present and past policyholders."

Having no such requirement Social Security officials are concerned to have on hand only those sums needed to cover upcoming obligations of the system.

In calendar 1967, that total is estimated at $22.6 billion, not including outlays under Medicare and hospital insurance programs.

But even here, no reserve is kept which is equal to the full year's demands. Social Security trust fund monies are constantly invested in government bonds, earning interest for additional fund income. At any given time, probably not much more than one month's prospective outlays (some-where around $2 billion or a bit less) are held as liquid cash reserves.

From the start of the program more than a generation ago, Social Security funds, like other government trust funds, have always been thus invested. The argument is simple: It is better to have them earning interest than lying idle.

In a typical recent year, the old age and survivors' trust fund under Social Security earned more than $583 million in interest. How the invested money is employed in other government programs is not deemed relevant.

As to the contention Social Security is a "welfare" program, officials plead guilty. They say that from the outset it was never thought of as anything else, that if the desired scale of benefits to U. S. citizens could have been managed on a strict "insurance" basis, then private insurance firms could have picked up the load.

In other words, despite what some critics say, the program never was intended to function on an "actuarial" basis, with a tight link between monies paid in and monies paid out.

The government's standard has been "social adequacy," not the citizen's equity seen in the program represented by his and his employer's payments into the fund. Inevitably, some beneficiaries will have put in little or nothing.

System officials concede that the President's proposals for enlarging cash benefits increase what might be called the "welfare weight" of the program. But they argue that this is simply a difference in degree, not in kind.

Jim: "We have been discussing the advantages of using the two club opening to cover hands that otherwise warrant a regular two bid in any suit or a strong no-trump. How about discussing the disadvantages?"

Oswald: "There is one great disadvantage. You lose an important round of bidding if your opponents compete against you immediately."

Jim: "Here is a hand from a Connecticut tournament to illustrate this. South was New York expert Boris Raymond. Boris' hand was certainly worth an opening two but since he was using two clubs as artificial, Boris opened one club only. He had little to lose by doing this. There was small chance that someone would not find a bid against his one club opening."

Oswald: "If Boris had opened with an artificial two club bid the chances are that he would have had to show a suit at the six level, since West would still overcall and East might jump to five spades. As a matter of fact, that is exactly what happened at a couple of tables. South was forced to try six clubs and West was smart enough to pass and take his profit."

Oswald: "It turned out that both East and West did. West had a very sound spade overcall and East raised his partner all the way to game. Boris bid five diamonds. He might have actually jumped to six diamonds but he had two reasons for bidding only five. The first was that Boris wanted to become declarer. The second was that a six diamond call might force North to give a preference to seven clubs with an unsatisfactory hand."

Jim: "As it was, West continued to five spades. North raised to six diamonds and Boris passed. West chose to bid six spades and when the bid came back to Boris he went to grand slam. You can't really blame West for falling into the trap and doubling."

Oswald: "There is one great disadvantage. You lose an important round of bidding if your opponents compete against you immediately."

Questions And Answers

Q—What fish is the source of caviar?

A—The Atlantic sturgeon. The average female produces in excess of 1½ million eggs; prepared and salted, these are known as caviar.

Q—What was the only major victory that American forces won on land during the War of 1812?

A—The Battle of New Orleans. The victory had no military importance. It was fought two weeks after the treaty of peace had been signed.

Q—Who was the first woman to be elected to the U. S. Congress?

A—Jeanette Rankin of Montana.

Q—What was the duration of the first aerial circumnavigation of the globe?

A—First plane to fly around the world was the single-engine Douglas biplane, "New Orleans," which carried a crew of two when it made its 1924 flight in 175 days at an average speed of 75 miles an hour. The Gemini 8 astronauts made the trip nonstop in 90 minutes at a speed of 17,000 m. p. h.

Q—What is the origin of the name of theistine Chapel in the Vatican?

A—The Chapel was so-named for its founder, Pope Sixtus IV, who was on the papal throne from 1471 to 1484.

Lawyer Mixed Marriages: Mixed Up Offspring

"GET EVEN"

Haled into court for beating up a neighbor's son, Hawkins offered the following explanation:

"He threw a rock at my little girl, so I went over and taught him a lesson."

But the court rejected Hawkins' excuse and ordered him to pay damages. Pointing out that the girl was no longer in danger at the time her father intervened, the judge said the right to protect did not include the right to punish.

By and large, the law does not give you the right to "get even" for a wrong inflicted upon you or your loved ones.

The reason lies in the "contract" between the individual and society. The individual gives up his right to punish a wrongdoer, in return for society's promise to do it for him.

To be sure, it may be difficult in a particular case to determine whether a person was acting to protect or to punish. Take this case:

A night watchman was rushed by a man wielding a knife. Drawing his gun, the watchman killed his assailant with two fast shots. But in due course, he himself was arrested and brought to trial on a homicide charge.

"His first shot was legitimate self-defense," conceded the prosecutor. "However, his second shot was fired after the man was already wounded. That was no longer self-defense—it was punishment."

But it also appealed that the victim, though wounded, was still armed, close, and dangerous. Dismissing the charge, the court held that the watchman's second shot, too, was within the reasonable scope of self-defense.

On the other hand: A landlord and tenant got into an angry scuffle, during which the tenant was knocked to the ground. While he was lying there helpless, the landlord gave him a swift kick in the head.

Because of the kick, the landlord was later held liable for assault and battery. The court said that, with danger past, the landlord had clearly acted out of sheer vindictiveness — and must therefore pay damages.

It was the law's way of echoing the warning of the poet La Fontaine: "Revenge, however sweet, is dearly bought."

Dear Ann Landers: I've read several letters in your column about mixed marriages. Most of the letters are from adults.

Now I would like to tell you how a mixed marriage looks through the eyes of a 16-year-old girl.

My name is Peggy Goldstein. My mother is Lutheran. My father is Jewish. My parents decided when they married, 20 years ago, that their children would choose the religion they wanted when they were old enough.

When I was eight, my Jewish grandmother wanted me to go to her Temple Sunday School. I went and took my brother along. Two other brothers went to Lutheran Sunday School. One day my mother got mad at my dad because he didn't show any interest in his Temple. She said it was too much trouble for her to drive two kids to Temple and two kids to Lutheran Sunday School so we would all have to go to the Lutheran Church.

When I was 15 I was the most mixed-up kid in town. I missed my Jewish worship and felt ill at ease in the Lutheran Church. The Lutheran boys wouldn't ask me out because my name was Goldstein. The Jewish boys wouldn't ask me out because they figured I was Lutheran. Finally I told my mother I wanted to be Jewish and that settled it.

For the first time in my life I feel like a whole human being. And you can bet your boots, Ann Landers, that I will never marry out of my faith. I wouldn't put my children through the agony I have suffered for anything in the whole world.

Please print my letter but change my name. Thank you.

—FISH WITH FEATHERS

Dear Fishers: Here is your letter and I have changed your name. But you can be sure that there are many Peggy Goldsteins in the country and I will undoubtedly hear from a lot of them.

Your letter underscores a vital point which I have been trying to get across for years. When individuals of different faiths marry (and I'm against it in the first place), the cruellest thing they can do to their children is ask them to choose between a father's and a mother's religion. This decision should be agreed upon before the children are born and there should be no mind-changing.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a beauty salon owner-operator who would like to set the record straight. The woman who complained about all that cigar smoke in the beauty salon must patronize a crummy dump.

If women patrons smoke, we cannot ask them to put out their cigarettes. But her complaint that the operators smoke incessantly (she was almost set on fire when a beautician dropped a cigaret on her) was too much!

It is against all State Board Regulations for operators to smoke while working on patrons. Every operator knows this. Operators who disregard the regulations should be reminded.—Long Branch, N. J.

Dear N. J.: Hear ye, all women whose operators smoke: Clip this column and take it to the beauty shop on your next visit. (You will probably lose your standing appointment for 3:00 p. m. Saturday and get moved to Tuesday at 9:00 a. m.)

Alcohol is no shortcut to social success. If you think you have to drink to be accepted by your friends, get the facts. Read "Booze and You—For Teen-Agers Only," by Ann Landers. Send 35c in coin and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the Files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 Years Ago

On behalf of students of Escanaba High School, Principal Edward Edick presented to the board of education a check for $1,000 as part payment on the new bleachers installed in the Junior High School this winter. The high school students earned the money through tournaments, a magazine campaign, carnivals, and a minstrel show.

Clearing a channel into the Escanaba harbor, and ripping through two or more feet of ice, is no cinch, but the Montana and the Wisconsin, both 85-foot tugs, were hard at work at that task. This was the earliest opening of the harbor since 1878. Last year the harbor didn't open until April 30.

50 Years Ago

John Dashnet, of the Escanaba area, brought to the city one of the finest wolf hides seen this season. Dashnet, a trapper, came to Escanaba to collect a bounty and sell the pelt. The wolf was believed to be one of the largest caught in the county.

The J. C. Penney Company of New York, owners of a string of 175 stores throughout the country, opened a general store on Ludington Street. S. S. Gilchrist, from Oregon, was named manager of the store.

Jeane Dixon And Lent

Holy Week is the church's word for disaster. Jesus Christ began the drama with the entrance on Palm Sunday and the exit on Good Friday. In between He faced a hostile government, a scheming clergy, a surly population, disloyal disciples and a hillside gallows.

During this week He interpreted the signs of the times: the collapse of Jerusalem, the captivity of the people and the destruction of the Temple.

The Meaning of Lent

Those about Him could not believe His comment; and when men are failing in the present, they plead for the future. The clouding of current events usually produces rampant speculation about coming events. So Jeane Dixon and the half-million letters asking her advice. So the fortune tellers, the gypsies of religious speculation, emerge like temple goddesses shouting their oracles to a bewildered and stupefied generation. And horoscopes!

The Christian looks at Holy Week with two results: the warm heart of faith in a personal Savior and the cold eyes of skepticism for crystal balls and card-deck prophecies.

Christ calls us in the mood of Holy Week, to challenge the matinee hopes of a society soaked with illusion and fantasy. In a day when the government lies to its people, surely we will scorn a new bondage to those who prophesy our yet univited future. God made Good Friday great through the power of His love. He still does.

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time

Board Approves New Policy On School Rentals

The Escanaba Area Board of Education Tuesday night adopted a new policy for rental of school facilities.

Action was taken by unanimous vote after recommendation of Supt. Luther M. Barrett and Business Manager Stephen C. Baltic to "promote a fair and orderly use of school district property" by area groups and organizations after school hours.

The policy establishes minimum rates for rental of school facilities, depending on the group desiring use and its purpose. Applicants will be charged on the schedule according to the class in which they are placed.

Five classes were established. They are:

Class I — groups sponsored by or affiliated with the Escanaba Area public schools (faculty and student groups, P.T.A., etc.)

Class II — Civic clubs and other organized groups within the district devoted to community interest or child welfare for ordinary meetings in classrooms or multi-purpose rooms;

Class III — Civic clubs and other organized groups outside the school district devoted to community interest for ordinary meetings held in classrooms and multi-purpose rooms;

Class IV — Organizations which charge admission and private parties which place the schools in the position of competing with private halls or auditoriums.

Class V — Church groups.

Rental Fees Set

Under the policy, groups in Classes I and II will pay no rental fee, there will be a nominal fee charged for groups in Class III and the highest rate for groups in Class V. Charges for church groups in Class V will depend on the activity for which the building is requested. Separate rates were established for use of different facilities, including classrooms, multi-purpose rooms, multi-purpose rooms with kitchen, junior high gym, junior high auditorium, high school kitchen, high school auditorium and high school gym.

In general, rates will be supplemented by cost of custodial help and utilities, etc.

The policy also states that concession rights are reserved to the school; in general, school buildings and facilities will not be available to groups not associated with the schools or school district community; out-of-community promotions may use school buildings or facilities only if sponsored by a community organization and the rental fees are paid by a community organization; rental fees do not include the use of special equipment such as public address systems, projectors, electric scoreboards, lighting consoles, etc. If they are used, they must be operated by a person authorized by the school.

Highest fees would be charged for Class IV groups requesting the high school gym, a flat $75 rate plus custodial costs. Complete rate schedule is available at the business office in the school administration building.

Johnson Named

In other business, the Board: Appointed Dr. Vernon Johnson as the district's representative on the County Tax Allocation Board; named Marvin Marshall as a candidate for appointment to the Intermediate District's Special Education Committee; named Roland Collins, Forrest Henslee and Kenneth Buckland to the Area's Memorial Scholarship Committee and set Tuesday, March 28, at 8 p.m. as the date for a special meeting.

The Board also authorized spending up to $850 to send the Area High School Chorus and Madrigal Singers to Detroit next month to appear Friday, April 14, at Cobo Hall before the National Music Educators Conference convention. The Board also authorized a letter to the music department commending teachers and students on a wonderful job in producing "Sound of Music" last week.

UPCAP Delays On Economic Districts

By ROSE LACHAPPELLE

MANISTIQUE — The UPCAP delegate body meeting here Tuesday voted to defer action on creation of districts in the Upper Peninsula to serve as regional economic planning units and indications are a special meeting will be called on the districting. Four plans establishing three to four districts in the Peninsula were studied.

The 100 delegates, undeterred by a first-day-of-spring snowfall, gathered in The Surf and moved for submission of an on-the-job training program grant renewal which calls for training 100 persons on a straight job-time basis and 200 on a coupled institutional and on-the-job training. Employer costs and training content would govern payments and duration of training. A maximum of $20 per week per trainee for a maximum of 20 weeks is authorized. The OJT portion of the program calls for a budget of $268,000.

Basic Tourist Project

A report of the Economic Planning and Development Committee on implementation of an MSU-EDA study to develop a series of U.P. recreational complexes to stimulate tourism was accepted and recommendations concurred in.

The material is being submitted to Operation Action U.P. and the Upper Michigan Tourist Association prior to publication.

Joseph Tuma, UPCAP executive director who is leaving, was present for the session, during which a personnel committee consisting of Myron Ross of Menominee, Ron Calery of Sault Ste. Marie, Drs. Ralph Noble and Eric Bourdo of Michigan Tech. and Victor Kral of Iron Mountain was named. The appointments were by Chairman Harold Dettman of St. Ignace and first committee meeting is scheduled Saturday in Escanaba.

Dettman, who predicts a good future for UPCAP and cites its accomplishments in providing the area with an organization which aids in solving economic problems, also appointed a nominating committee. A slate of officers will be selected, to be presented at the June meeting probably to be held in Escanaba. Named to the committee are Ronald Calery, Judge Donald Munro of Ontonagon, Fr. Louis Cappel of Hubbell.

Districting Plan

Donald Bailey of the Michigan Office of Economic Expansion and Bernard Conboy, executive director of the OEE, spoke on the districting plan, which would provide a group through which all types of federal, state and local programs could be channeled.

"You ate the report," Frank Mead jested in presenting his report on Lake Superior cisco filets. He outlined efforts of UPCAP relating to development of a fillet industry. The fish are frozen and marketed in attractive cartons. Availability of the fish and economic production will be key factors in the future of the project, which now has a pilot plant of the Bureau of Fisheries at Hancock. Plates of the breaded filets were served with the luncheon at The Surf.

Tourism Guidelines

Iain Christy, tourist and resort specialist for Michigan State University, presented the tourism and recreation guidelines developed in a study prepared by MSU's Dr. Uel Blank and Dr. Clare Gunn and by Johnson, Johnson & Roy of Ann Arbor. The report was prepared for UPCAP with support and financial assistance from the MSU extension service and EDA.

Continued aid and cooperation in the Copper Peak ski flying development project was assured.

Submission for renewal of the Economic Development Act proposal expiring June 28 was approved.

Delegates of UPCAP will be developing stronger ties with boards of supervisors and planning boards and will consult on the districting program, it was indicated.

Teamsters Win

The Teamsters Union has been certified by the National Labor Relations Board as representative for the employees of the Odgers Drilling, Inc., Crystal Falls, following an election held there on March 2. The

Schools Feed 1,488 Daily

The Escanaba Area school system served 157,712 meals in its hot lunch program for the first six months of the school year, but only about 50 per cent of the students at the senior and junior high schools participate.

Average daily participation throughout the district is 1,488, about one third of the total 4,500 enrollment, but Webster, Washington and Jefferson elementary schools in the city with a combined enrollment of between 700 and 800 children do not have the program.

Figures on the program were reported to the Board of Education Tuesday night in the monthly hot lunch report.

Of about 1,300 students at the high school, only 662 participate in the program every day. At the Junior high, average daily participation is 366 of about 800 students.

Students at the meeting when asked about the other students by the Board indicated that many bring their own lunch, some of them purchase milk, and that others don't eat. One student indicated that the food was good, but another said the price was too high.

Cost of hot lunch is 35c cents daily, an increase of five cents from a year ago.

After losing $10,000 two years ago, the program wound up with a balance of several thousand dollars last year. This year, although expenses have exceeded revenues, the carry over balance is expected to keep the program from running a deficit.

Supt. Luther Barrett said the reason for decline in revenue was less federal surplus food, particularly meat, and that state reimbursement hasn't been 100 per cent of what was promised.

Schools in the hot lunch program are Cornell, Ford River, John Lemmer, Pine Ridge, Soo Hill and Wells elementary schools and the Junior and Senior High Schools.

NLRB supervised the election in which there were 19 votes for the Teamsters and four against.

Mrs. V. Deemer Dies Today In Manistique

Mrs. Victor Deemer, 85, of 320 S. Maple St., died at 8:30 a.m. today at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. She has been in ill health for some time.

The former Bertha Farley was born Oct. 9, 1881 in Garden. Her husband died June 25, 1955. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church and its Women's Association.

Surviving are an uncle, Nelson B. Bouschor of Manistique and several nieces and nephews.

Friends may call at the Kauter and Jackson Funeral Home from 2 to 8 p.m. Friday and funeral services will be conducted at 8 p.m. Friday at the funeral home chapel. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Donations Sought For Fire Victims

The Menominee - Delta-Schoolcraft Community Action Agency is appealing for cash donations to be used for the purchase of materials to repair the Lawrence Boudreau home in Escanaba, which was severely damaged by fire last week.

The house is being repaired with donations of labor from carpenters and electricians and some materials have been donated by local businessmen. About $400 for additional materials is still required to enable Mr. and Mrs. Boudreau and their five children to move back into the house.

Donations may be sent to the Community Action Agency, Box 378, Escanaba, or call the Community Action office at 786-7080.

Muralist Speaks:

Art And People Add Vital Spark

Bring together people of talent, involve them in a highly competitive atmosphere, and latent talents emerge to create a center for international art, Urio Schettini, muralist, told the Rotary Club of Escanaba Tuesday noon at the House of Ludington.

Schettini, a native of Rome, is working in Escanaba with art students of Bay de Noc Community College this week. He lectured at the school last evening at a public meeting.

While here he will create a

Painting Mural

Schettini lectured and showed slides of the architecture of Rome to an appreciative audience at Bay College last night. Interspersed with his fine photos of Renaissance, Mannerist and Baroque buildings as they look today, were slides of the engravings of Piranesi showing the same buildings as they were centuries ago.

Schettini said the great art of Rome is a common heritage for all people.

Schettini is presently painting a mural depicting a folk-singing group which will be the property of the college. The work is being done in the student center, where the students can observe its progress. The designing and drawing is being executed in India ink, and the painting will be in tempera.

At 11:15 a.m. on Thursday Schettini will meet with students in the creation room for a convocation.

mural for Bay College in connection with his discussions with the students.

Schettini was introduced to the Rotarians by Leo Alperovitz, Rotarian, and Bay College business manager. The Rotary meeting was conducted by President Isadore Stein.

American Mixer
New York City is the new center of international art because there is combined there the elements for stirring creativity, Schettini said.

"Here is the highly competitive atmosphere that brings the latent talent to light," he said. The international art center has been traditionally in Paris and then for a time it appeared that it would shift to London — but New York has emerged as the new center, he believes.

Of Paris he spoke with fondness and of London (he lived in England from 1958 to 1964) he said: "After all those years, strangely enough I was still a foreigner there."

"But when I landed in New York in 1964 I felt in a moment that here I could be at home. Here was a vital overwhelming mixing quality that I have come to associate with America."

Sparkle of Truth
His visit and his work in this country have been "a wonderful opportunity for me," Schettini said. "I feel that I have something to offer my students here, but I also realize that I am receiving more in return. There is no 'Typical American," he has found. Rather there is a great diversity of people and of landscape.

"I am an artist and therefore I live through my eyes. In my experience in America I see those things that I have only read about. The impact of the great Mississippi River or a desert in Nevada is an emotional achievement. The variety of landscape in America is a special feature."

In his travels in Europe and America he has also made another discovery:

"So far as it is possible people around the world must mix and mingle, must come to know each other. Something indescribable happens then — an excitement, a sparkle of truth."

Rotary President Isadore Stein in closing the meeting commented that world understanding, good will and peace represents one of the primary objectives of Rotary International.

Escanaba Area PTA Council Elects Officers

New officers of the Escanaba Area PTA Council for 1967-68 were elected at the March meeting held at the Wells school. Mrs. Dan Wellman of the nominating committee presented the slate.

Mrs. William Savard was re-elected president; 1st vice president is Mrs. Keith Mattson of Soo Hill; 2nd vice president is Mrs. Myles Leonard of Webster; Mrs. John McMahon of Ford River was re-elected secretary and Mrs. Ralph Anderson of Webster was re-elected treasurer. Installation will take place at the next Council meeting at the Jefferson school, May 22.

All PTA units should plan to send a delegate to the State PTA convention to be held in Traverse City, April 24, 25 and 26.

The Nicolò Marionettes under the sponsorship of the PTA Council will present, "Hansel and Gretel" April 29 with two performances, afternoon and evening at the Junior High School.

The auditing committee chosen were Mrs. Leo Niquette, Mrs. Douglas McEachern and Floyd Cassidy. Lunch was served by Mrs. Leonard Johnson, Mrs. Richard Hentz, Mrs. Richard Young and Mrs. John Leno. School court was: Pine Ridge—4, Washington—4, Ford River—3, Wells—3, Webster—2, Jefferson—2, Lemmer—2, Soo Hill—2.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued a traffic court summons to Rodney J. Goodchild, Escanaba Rte. 1, speeding and defective equipment.

A caption between a picture of the construction at John Lemmer elementary school in the Daily Press Tuesday said 10 rooms were being added to the building. Only six classrooms are being added.

Renew Tanker Salvage Effort

LAND'S END, England (AP) — New attempts were planned today to salvage the blast-wrecked American supertanker Torrey Canyon despite an official warning that the $15-million ship could blow up any time.

Undeterred by an engine-room explosion that killed a Dutch salvage expert Tuesday, salvage tugmen stood by to rebore the 61,263-ton ship lying across the notorious Seven Stones Reef.

Eight thousand soldiers and sailors were thrown into the battle to keep Britain's southern beaches from being ruined by the millions of gallons of crude oil oozing from the tanker's split holds.

The navy said the huge, pear-shaped oil slick was drifting with the tides only eight miles off Land's End, Britain's southwestern tip, and menacing the golden beaches of Cornwall. The black pool of oil stretched 35 miles southeast of the reef and was 20 miles wide in parts.

The Defense Ministry expressed anxiety over the renewed salvage operations. With fumes probably filling the tanker from some 50,000 tons of oil still in its holds, a ministry spokesman said, "it needs only a spark to set the whole lot off."

The explosion Tuesday came as 18 salvage men pumped compressed air below decks in an attempt to make the tanker buoyant enough to lift her off the reef on a high tide.

Capt. Hans Stahl, 36, who was in charge of a salvage team from the Dutch Wijsmuller organization, was struck by a hatch cover and knocked overboard. He died aboard a tug bringing him ashore. Ten other men were hurt.

Matthew Thomson, vice president of the Union Oil Company of California, owners of the Torrey Canyon, said salvage operations would go on.

Toledo Blade Strike Ended

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Toledo Blade presses, idle the last five months, are due to roll again Monday.

At evening ceremonies Tuesday following ratification votes by the last of nine unions, documents were signed ending a strike, in its 149th day, against the Blade Publishing Co. Publication of the afternoon Blade was scheduled to resume Monday. The morning Times is to reappear Tuesday.

Union members accepted in separate local meetings this week the settlement reached by joint negotiators with management Saturday night.

An interim paper put out by the unions during the strike, The Toledo Record, ceased operations.

Details of the new contracts were not released.

Secret Letter Effort To End War Told By Ho

troop level in South Vietnam if the North Vietnamese president would stop all infiltration into South Vietnam.

Answers Pope
For some days in mid-February, the President and his advisors wondered whether Ho would reply at all. Johnson's letter was reported to have reached Hanoi two days after its delivery in Moscow.

Authorities here said they supposed the diplomat who received it had to find out from his government whether Ho would be willing to receive it or wanted him to return it to the U.S. Embassy. On at least one occasion in the past, the North Vietnamese representative returned a message from Washington. But this time Ho received it.

Before he replied to the President, Ho replied to a peace appeal from Pope Paul VI. U.S. officials said at the time they took that as a rejection of efforts to build up the cease-fire into a permanent or prolonged truce.

Letter To LBJ
On Feb. 15 Ho sent his answer to Johnson saying: "If the U.S. government wants these talks, it must first of all stop unconditionally its bombing raids and all other acts of war" against North Vietnam.

Ho also wrote Johnson that "the Vietnamese people will never submit to force. They will never accept talks under the threat of bombs."

When it released the letters, the North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry said publication was decided on "with a view to exposing to world public opinion the stubbornness and perfidy of the U.S. rulers."

The statement attacked "the U.S. aggressors" and charged that the Guam conference was held for the purpose of "stepping up and expanding the war of aggression in Vietnam to a more serious extent."

U.S. officials back from Guam said no military decisions were made there although the progress of the war was reviewed.

In South Vietnam the tempo of military operations has been increasing since the failure of the February peace maneuvers. There also have been expanded operations against North Vietnam with long-range artillery shelling across the border from South Vietnam, mining of waterways, naval bombardments and bombing of a steel plant.

Johnson's letter, made public by the State Department after its disclosure by Hanoi, did not make de-escalation of the war a condition for talks. The President handled the two subjects separately. He said that because of the possibility of distortion through indirect channels — evidently meaning through other governments — Ho and he should "arrange for direct talks between trusted representatives in a secure setting and away from the glare of publicity."

On Bombing Halt
He said he had noted North Vietnamese statements calling for a permanent and unconditional end to the bombing and he understood that was Ho's proposal as a means of opening the way for talks.

But Johnson argued there were two reasons against such a procedure. First, he said, it would focus worldwide attention on the talks and "impair (their) privacy and secrecy." Second, he said, the U.S. government would be worried about North Vietnamese action "to improve its military position."

"With these problems in mind," Johnson said, "I am prepared to move even further toward an ending of hostilities than your government has proposed in either public statements or through private diplomatic channels."

"I am prepared to order a cessation of bombing against your country and the stopping of further augmentation of U.S. forces in South Vietnam, as soon as I am assured that infiltration into South Vietnam by land and by sea has stopped," he said.

Chance For Peace
"These acts of restraint on both sides would, I believe, make it possible for us to conduct serious and private discussions leading toward an early peace."

Johnson said Tuesday night that Ho's reply to him in mid-February and his earlier public reply to the Pope "were regrettable rebuffs to a genuine effort to move toward peace."

U.S. officials said the President's letter would not have been made public — even though it might have served as useful propaganda to world public opinion — had not Hanoi decided to disclose it. They also said that the letter was carefully prepared to avoid polemics and charges against North Vietnam and to focus on the issues of trying to get talks started and to de-escalate the war.

Trenary

A communion service will be held at the Methodist Church Thursday, March 23 at 7:30 p.m. The senior choir will rehearse following the service.

Daniel Wells Dies In Detroit

Daniel Wells, last of the children of the late John Walter Wells, who was general manager of the I. Stephenson Co., at Wells at its peak of operations and for whom John W. Wells State Park at Cedar River is named, died in Detroit Tuesday at the age of 91.

Funeral services are to be held in the Jefferson Ave., Presbyterian Church in Detroit at 2 p. m. Saturday. His survivors include nephews Samuel A. Wells and William S. Wells of Menominee, Thomas Wells of Seattle and a grandson, Peter Wells, who is coming from Amsterdam for the funeral.

Mr. Wells' brothers, the late Artemus Carter Wells and Ralph W. Wells (for whom Ralph, Mich., is named) were both Menominee lumbermen in the J. W. Wells Lumber Co. which their father founded. The father organized the Girard Lumber Co. at Menominee with the Culbertson Brothers of Girard, Penn., in 1876 and in 1899 Wells bought a large interest in the I. Stephenson Co. of Wells and became its general manager.

With I. Stephenson Co. John W. Wells' 10 years with the I. Stephenson Co. were a period of expansion for the big wood industry complex of sawmills, flooring factory, chemical plant and charcoal iron smelter. The Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad extended its line and the Ford River Lumber Co. was acquired.

Rock Seniors See Tourney

ROCK — Eight senior boys from the Rock High School basketball team enjoyed a trip to Lansing to see the semi-finals and finals in the basketball tournaments last weekend.

The trip was made possible by donations from business people of the Rock area. Seniors making the trip were Bill Bakka, Jeff Carlson, Pat Dube, Jim Halmeoja, Jim LaCrosse, Larry Lippens, Jim Lippens, Bob Mankiewicz.

Kowalski Rites Held In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski, the only Democrat in 26 years to be speaker of the Michigan House of Representatives, was to be buried today in Valhalla Cemetery of his widow's home town of Milwaukee, Wis.

A Detroit funeral for Kowalski drew an estimated 1,000 mourners to a funeral home Tuesday.

Those attending the brief, 15-minute services included Gov. George Romney, a Republican, and two former Democratic governors, G. Mennen Williams and Circuit Judge John B. Swainson. Two buses brought legislators from Lansing.

Other dignitaries included Attorney General Frank Kelley and Detroit Council President Ed Carey.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Clement H. Kern, of Most Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church, officiated "as a friend," since Kowalski had ceased to be a practitioner of that faith.

"I am here as one who believes in prayer for the living and the dead and one who believes in Joe," said Msgr. Kern. "I represent thousands of the very poor, the people for whom Joe gave his life."

AMC Announces New Shutdown For Next Week

DETROIT (AP) — Except for Rambler American assembly lines, American Motors Corp. will shut down its automobile production next week.

President William V. Luneburg said, however, that when full production is resumed April 3, daily output will be increased and new workers hired. He disclosed no figures.

Luneburg said demand for the low-priced American has been strong since prices were cut $154 to $234 on Feb. 21. AMC said it built 5,800 cars last week, including 1,970 American models.

The company's entire assembly operations were shut down 10 days in February in what the company said was a move to bring dealer inventories in line with sales.

AMC also announced Tuesday that it has recalled 127 automobiles for installation of a device to prevent possible throttle-sticking on cars equipped with two-barrel carburetors, 233 cubic-inch six-cylinder engines and automatic speed control. It said, however, it had received no complaints of throttle-sticking from customers.

Did You Ever Think of Getting Your Easter Bonnet From A&P?

We don't sell Easter bonnets but... we suspect many an Easter hat has been paid for with money saved by shopping A&P.

Are we implying that A&P has the lowest prices on all items all the time? No!

There is no store that can make that claim.

What we are saying is: if you're interested in your total food bill, if you're looking for the best values for your food dollar, A&P is the store for you.

It's a little late for this year's Easter bonnet, but start shopping A&P this week, anyway.

It won't be long before somebody in the house will need a new pair of shoes.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

Presbyterian Ladies Enjoy Lenten Program

A Lenten meditation and coffee began Holy Week activities for United Presbyterian Women on Tuesday morning, March 21.

Mrs. Joseph LaCrosse gave brief devotions and meditation followed by Mrs. Phillip Lyon singing, "Crucifixion". Mrs. Edward C. Olsen led the women in a period of silent prayer interspersed by prayers from different areas of the world read by Mrs. William DeHaan, Mrs. William Leiper, Mrs. Gerald Nelson and Mrs. Herbert Nicholson.

Coffee and rolls were served by Mrs. Tom Irish, Mrs. William Leiper, and Mrs. Robert E. Meyer.

The next activity for the United Presbyterian Women will be the annual spring tea on April 1. An interesting program of music is being planned by Mrs. Clarence Moore preceded by a bake sale.

Trenary

Spring From

On April 28, a program will be held at the Mathias Township High School. The theme will be "April in Paris."

The semi-formal dance will be held from 8 p. m. to midnight and may be attended by invitation only. Tickets can be purchased in advance from either Paulette Webber or Joyce Carlson. An invitation is being extended to the parents of the students and to the alumni. Music will be played by the Versatiles of Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roberts Sr. have spent the past three weeks visiting relatives in Chicago.

A Union Good Friday Worship Service of the First Lutheran and Methodist congregations will be held on Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the Methodist Church. The choirs of both churches will sing and there will be short meditations by Rev. Janis Dombrowski and Rev. James Ritchie. A coffee hour will follow the service.

The postponed Easter Cantata at the Methodist Church has been rescheduled for Monday, March 27 at 7:30 p. m. Refreshments will be served with Mrs. Harold Foster Sr., chairman.

Prints Of Winter Flowers

Flowers that bloom in the winter are the carefully cultivated art nouveau variety. They are planted all over the far-flung tent dresses, at-home loungers and even bathing suits and coats. Prints are just great this time of year for stay-at-homes who need a little color in their lives or the lucky island-bound people.

Ellen Bakka Will Attend Girl's State

ROCK—Ellen Bakka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waino Bakka, West Rock, was chosen to represent Rock at Girl's State in Ann Arbor on June 18-25. She is sponsored by the Rock American Legion Auxiliary Post 559. Rita Kaukola was runner-up, followed by Nancy Weldum. Each girl gave a short talk on why she would like to attend Girl's State and last year's representative, Marilyn Small, told about her trip.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Viola Trombly and Mrs. Edith Weingartner. The next meeting will be April 5. At this time the spring meeting of the Upper 11th District at Rock April 23 will be discussed and plans for the games party to raise funds for Girl's State trip will be made.

Diocesan Council Will Convene Here April 1, 2

The eighteenth annual convention of the Marquette Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will be held in Escanaba, April 1 and 2. Women from the seven Deaneries of the Upper Peninsula are expected to attend this outstanding event.

The Holy Name High School will be headquarters for this affair and all general and work-group sessions will take place at the school. The convention Mass will be celebrated at St. Patrick's Church. "Present - Active in the World," is the theme of this year's convention, encouraging the women of the Council to know and participate in the Liturgy of the Church.

The MDCCW, formed by Bishop Thomas L. Noa will be April 5. At this time the spring meeting of the Upper 11th District at Rock April 23 will be discussed and plans for the games party to raise funds for Girl's State trip will be made.

and cooperation with the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

The Vicar Episcopal Moderator for the MDCCW is Msgr. Nolan B. McKeivitt. The Msgr. Joseph J. Dunleavy is the Diocesan Council Moderator. The slogan for the convention is, "Make and Keep Your Good Intention—Escanaba, Our Convention."

If dry beans have to be cooked in hard water, it's a good idea to add baking soda after the beans have been soaked and are ready to be cooked. Use 1/2 teaspoon of soda to 2 quarts of water.

Special Service At Adventist Church Saturday

Members of the Escanaba Seventh-day Adventist Church, 210 S. 23rd Street, will send "Dollar Missionaries" to three foreign mission posts in the Far East as a result of special services at 10:45 a. m. Saturday, March 25.

The missionaries will be the result of a "Thirteenth Sabbath" offering given by members during the Sabbath School services of the local church, says James Tardiff, director of the church's Sabbath School department.

The funds will go to build new medical buildings at the Seoul Sanitarium-Hospital in Korea; to erect an evangelistic center in the Crown Colony of Hong Kong; and to expand Mountain View College in the Philippines.

During the past three months, explained Tardiff, members of the church have been receiving special reports on these projects as well as other activities of the Seventh-day Adventist faith throughout the Far East.

At the special Saturday morning service, the youth of the church will take part. The Junior department will conduct the Sabbath school and the Primary class will portray a Bible story. The Kindergarten and Cradle Roll children will sing, recite poems and Bible memory verses.

Leaders of the children's departments are Mrs. A. W. Erickson and Mrs. James Tardiff. Teachers are David Erickson, Mrs. Richard Feak, Evelyn Sundstrom and Mrs. Art Thompson.

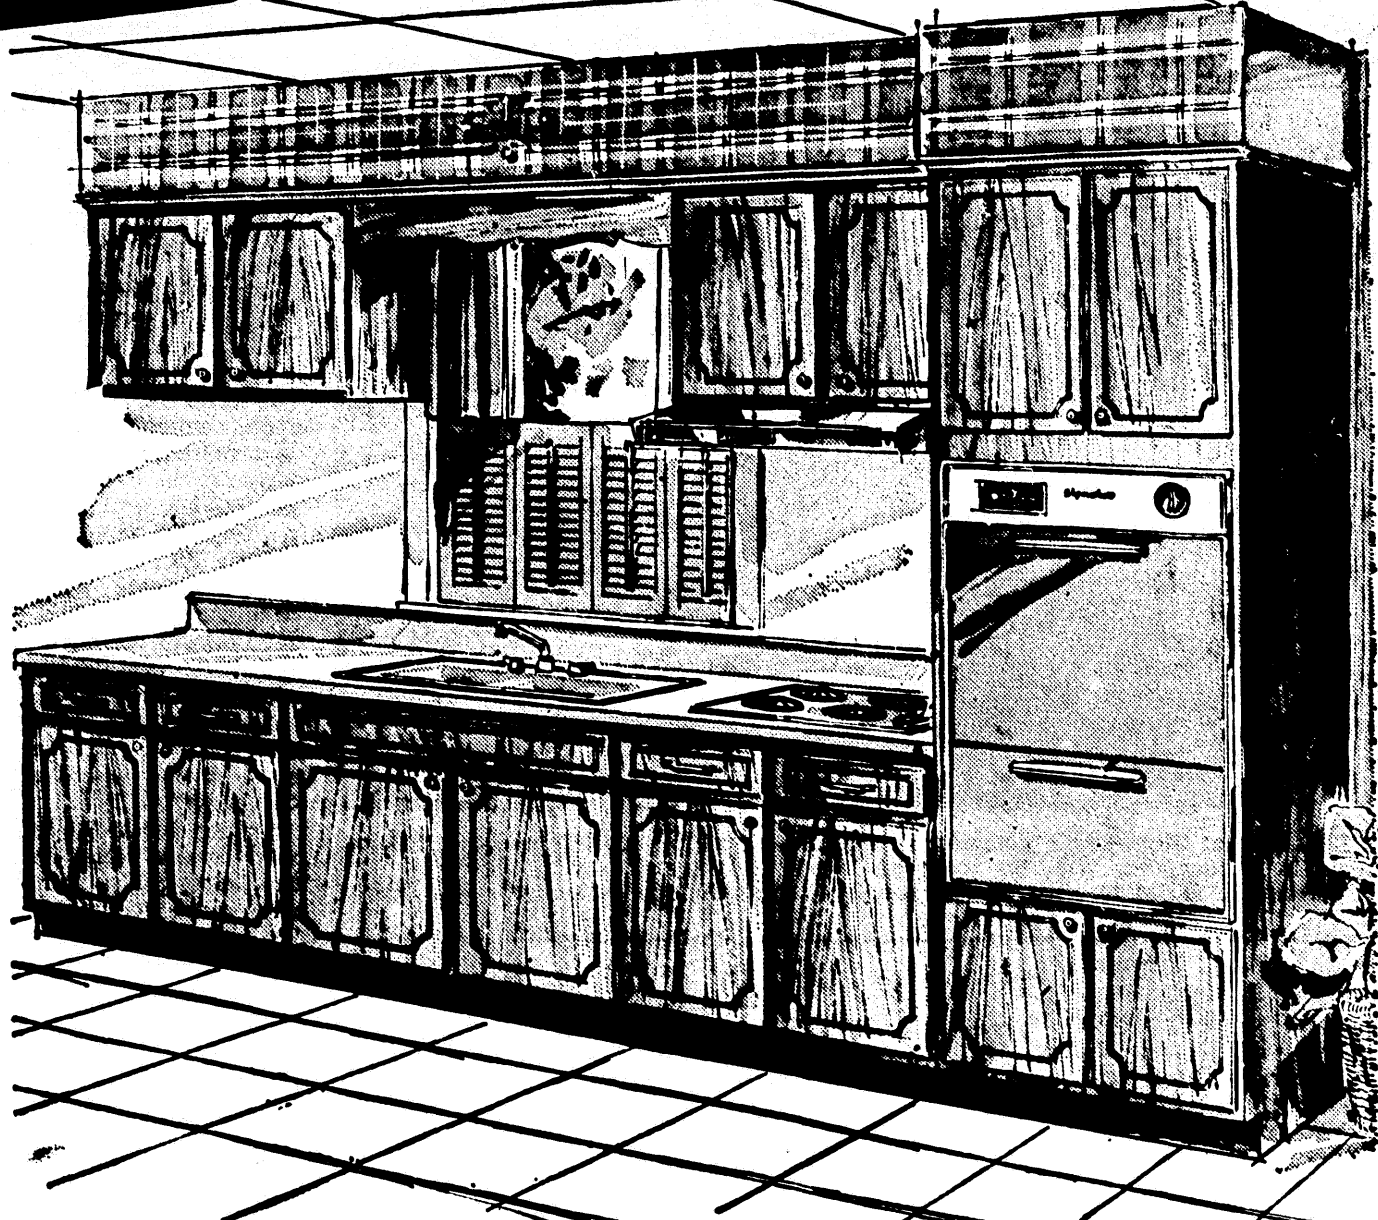

UCT, Auxiliary Meet Saturday

A regular monthly meeting of the United Commercial Travelers of America, Council 616 and Auxiliary will be held at the Sherman Hotel at 7:30 p. m. on Saturday. Election of officers will be held. Delegates to the state convention in Saginaw, in May will also be elected at this time. All members and their wives are urged to attend this important meeting.

Be sure your footgear is in high gear when you're wearing a pant suit. The new boot-flats and men's old-time-looking spectator shoes with laces, buckles and patent trim give your sport suit the sturdy look it needs. To keep the look a little feminine, choose a pair with a little bit of a heel.

Demo Women Accept Revised Constitution

The Delta County Democratic Women's Club, meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. William Butler, unanimously accepted a revised constitution whose by-laws had been up-dated by Ann Villeneuve, Elnora Vader and Mrs. James Anderson. Regular meetings are scheduled for the third Monday of January, March, May, August and October.

A special feature of the evening was a report by Elnora Vader on the activities at the state convention. Because of her presence on the pre-platform committee, Delta County is represented in the party platform in connection with a proposed amendment to achieve a graduated state income tax.

Mrs. Vader, who was re-elected to the state central committee, noted that the only requirement for outlying counties to have a voice in planning is to send a delegate. Of interest to the local Democrats was the standing ovation given to former Congressman Ray Clevenger.

During the social hour when refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. August Garner entertained the group with an illustrated description of the Caribbean cruise from which she and Mr. Garner recently returned. Mrs. Ann Villeneuve received the door prize.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD H. Davis of 215 S. 26th St., Escanaba, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to Robert J. Beault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beault of 1120 S. 23rd St. Both young people are 1966 graduates of Escanaba Area High School and the bride-elect is presently employed at the Birds Eye Veneer Co. Her fiancé is serving with the U. S. Army at Fort Campbell, Ky. A May wedding is being planned.

For an epicurean appetizer, top stuffed-egg halves with smoked oysters. The oysters come in flat cans—like sardines—and are available in food markets, especially those that carry fancy specialties.

Sue Fletcher, Marquette High School girl, is one of the outstanding junior skiers in the United States. . . . In her latest national competition at Stowe, Vt., the 17 year old placed sixth in the Junior alpine championships with a time of 1:35.35, seven seconds under the winning time. . . . Mike Porcarelli of Wakefield finished ninth in the boys downhill competition.

Wilt's Quint Takes Loss

By The Associated Press

The Big O turned in his usual performance, but it was the Big C that caught the Philadelphia 76ers with their defenses down.

Oscar Robertson, often referred to as the Big O, scored 33 points and Connie Dierking, probably never before called the Big C, got 29 as the Cincinnati Royals upset the Philadelphia 76ers 120-116 in an opening game of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

In other playoff action, the defending world champion Boston Celtics thrashed the New York Knicks 140-110, San Francisco trounced Los Angeles 124-108 and the St. Louis Hawks topped the Chicago Bulls 114-100.

"We definitely played the best ball of the season, and I was really up for this game," said 6-foot-10 Dierking, who averaged 9.3 points in regular season games.

"I really wanted to beat Philadelphia right in its own back yard."

If Dierking does as well in his own back yard tonight when the best-of-5 series resumes, the Eastern Division champion 76ers, who won eight of nine from Cincinnati in regular season play, could be in serious trouble. There are no other games scheduled tonight.

Dierking put the Royals ahead to stay by breaking a 66-66 tie with two quick baskets. Robertson clinched it with a field goal and two foul shots in the last 29 seconds.

The Big C also helped Jerry Lucas give the Royals an edge off the boards. Each pulled down 18 rebounds.

Wilt Chamberlain led Philadelphia with 41 points and 22 rebounds. Hal Greer got 23 points for the 76ers.

Boston wasted little time in letting New York know whose back yard the teams were playing in. Bailey Howell gave the Celtics a 2-0 lead on a jump shot, and the Celtics never trailed en route to their 20th straight victory over the Knicks-erbockers since March 17, 1965.

Sam Jones scored 38 points, John Havlicek 32 and Howell 23 for the Celtics, who are gunning for their ninth straight world championship. Jones hit 15 of 18, Havlicek 14 of 19 and Howell 10 of 14 from the field. Willis Reed led the visiting Knicks with 23.

Western Division winner San Francisco built up a 31-point lead early in the fourth quarter and coasted to victory over the Lakers, who played without star guard Jerry West, sidelined with an ankle injury. The game was played at Oakland, Calif.

Rick Barry of the Warriors, the NBA's leading scorer, didn't get a point in the first quarter, but Jeff Mullins took up the slack with 15. Mullins hurt an ankle in the second quarter and saw no further action.

Barry ended with 21 points, and former Laker Jim King added 22. Rookie Archie Clark scored 26 and Elgin Baylor 18 for Los Angeles.

Rookie Lou Hudson threw in 26 points and veteran Lenny Wilkens hit 20, including 16 of 17 from the foul line, in leading the Hawks past first-year Chicago at St. Louis.

Don Kojis and Bob Boozer scored 18 each for the Bulls, who trailed throughout most of the game.

The San Francisco-Los Angeles series switches to Los Angeles and the Hawks-Bulls set moves to Chicago Thursday night. The Celtics and Knicks will resume play in New York Saturday night.

HERMANVILLE — Bruce Weng, 17 year old high school senior at Stephenson, showed the veterans a few things about playing basketball in the Upper Peninsula - Northeastern Wisconsin Amateur cage tournament here Tuesday night.

Weng split the laces for 34 points to lead the Stephenson Strollers to an 82-78 victory over Escanaba Tom's Signs in a double overtime thriller.

Billiard Action Opens Saturday

The Recreation Department announced today that the 16th annual pocket billiards tournament will be held at Club 314 on March 25, 27, and 29.

The competition will open on Saturday, March 25, at 1:30 with boys 13, 14, and 15 years of age playing off for the Junior division title. Last year's winner in this class was Scott Thomas. Jerry Robitaille placed second, Bob Stacey third and Bill Dubord fourth.

Action in the Intermediate division for boys 16 and 17 will get underway on Monday, March 27, at 6:30. Tom Marrier won the title last year and the runnerup was Lee Robitaille. Dale Thibodeau finished third and Dennis Weber fourth.

Boys and men 18 years of age and older will compete in the Senior division and this age bracket will begin play on Wednesday, March 29, at 6:30. Herbert McDougall, 70 year old cue master from Manistique, outclassed a field of sixteen hopefuls last year and then turned over the trophy to young Terry Sivertsen who was the official runnerup. Tim O'Brien took a third place medal and Dennis Reeves came in fourth.

The Open division for girls 13 years of age and older is scheduled for Wednesday, March 29, at 7:30 p. m. Last year was the first time that the young ladies of the area entered the billiard competition and the event was won by Jean LaPorte. Betty Anderson took runnerup honors, Lita Valind captured a third place medal, and Bonnie Seari was fourth.

The deadline for entry is Friday, March 28. Registration blanks are available at Club 314 and at the home of Paul Vardigan, 1704 8th Ave. S.

There has been virtually no wagering on the outcome except for a reported few bets on whether the fight will go the distance. It's 5-13 that it doesn't go the limit and 5-9 it doesn't go 10 rounds.

Starting time is 10:30 p. m. EST.

It's a ripe situation for an upset along the lines of Clay's seventh round technical knockout of Sonny Liston as a 7-1 underdog Feb. 25, 1964, Jersey Joe Walcott's seventh round knockout of Ezzard Charles in 1951 at 6-1 odds and Jimmy Braddock's 15-round decision over the 10-1 favored Maxie Baer in 1935. All three were just considered opponents.

Clay, winner of all 26 of his pro fights and making his seventh title defense within a year and his ninth in all, seems supremely confident.

For a change he hasn't predicted the round but he has appeared as arrogant at times as a night club headwaiter with a packed house.

But Angelo Dundee, his shrewd trainer, has forecast a fourth round knockout victory for his charge. Earlier he had predicted it would end "somewhere between the seventh and 11th round."

Folley, unbeaten in his last 12 fights in a 3½-year span, said "I'm going to win by decision or by a knockout. I'm going to be the next heavyweight champion."

He doesn't seem convincing. Still, the scientific challenger from Chandler, Ariz., has the tools to win if he gets lucky. He has a 74-74 won-lost-draw record, including 40 knockouts. He has been stopped five times, the last by Doug Jones in the seventh round on Dec. 15, 1962.

Despite the long odds, indicating the Korean War veteran hasn't a chance, the fight will do good business.

The Garden expects a crowd of upwards of 16,000 to pay between $30,000 and $400,000 at prices ranging from $8 to $50.

There will be national television to the homes by MSG-RKO General and closed circuit television into theaters and arenas in a couple of cities, New York and a 90-mile radius of the metropolis will be blacked out of the television.

Clay will earn about $300,000 on his 50 per cent of the Garden receipts and a $150,000 guarantee from the ancillaries—television, movies, etc.

Folley will collect about $70,000 on his 15 per cent of the gate and $25,000 from the ancillaries. His largest purse before was the $40,000 he received for being knocked out in the third round by Sonny Liston at Denver in 1960.

The teams battled to a 68-68 deadlock in regulation time with a free throw by John LaPointe, Stephenson football coach, knotting the score.

Both teams hit four points in the first overtime session. Stephenson had a chance to end it with the last shot by Dougovito, but the ball failed to fall in.

Weng took command for the Strollers in the second overtime, tallying six points while LaPointe contributed four.

Charley Dube paced Tom's with 23 points while Mark Miller tossed in 13 and Wally Slade 12.

The Trenary Tavern team eliminated Iron Mountain Teen Promotions, 68-58 with Wayne Lusardi earning 19 points for the winners. Don Cooper scored 18 and Paul Feldhausen, Northland College football standout, contributed 12 for the Iron Mountain team.

Champion measured Felch, 59-45, in another clash last night as Jim Mitchell, Pete Koeki and John Chilcutt hit in double figures. Gustafson scored 12 for Felch.

Norway Louie's Bar fashioned its second triumph of the tournament, sidelining the Ishpeming Bandits by a 70-45 margin. Jim LaPine tossed in 20 points, Mike Gulliani 16 and Dick Emery 12 for the winners. Roger Larson and Steve Johnson hit 10 each for Ishpeming.

The Marquette Bouncers won on a forfeit from Ishpeming Twin City Chronics.

Five Class B games are on tap here tonight as the tournament swings into third round action. The opener at 6:30 will match Oconto Pioneer Bar against the Niagara Badgers.

The program was requested by the Escanaba football staff in an effort to get more boys actually playing football. With 9th graders included on the junior varsity team with 10th graders, coaches said most 9th graders didn't get an opportunity to get game experience.

Sparation of the 9th and 10th graders under separate coaches will also allow more individual instruction, they said.

Esky Expands Grid Program

An interscholastic football program for ninth grade boys and an intramural program for seventh and eighth graders in the Escanaba Area school system were approved Tuesday night by the Board of Education.

Cost of the program for coaches and game officials was estimated to be about $770. The school already has enough equipment, the football staff indicated.

Ninth graders, who have been members of the junior varsity team, will play a six-game schedule with other schools. The junior high program provides for four teams of seventh and eighth graders to be established to play a double round-robin schedule.

The program was requested by the Escanaba football staff in an effort to get more boys actually playing football. With 9th graders included on the junior varsity team with 10th graders, coaches said most 9th graders didn't get an opportunity to get game experience.

Inkala, Gerard Selected On All-State Cage Squad

By The Associated Press

In Michigan's Upper Peninsula, where basketball makes mining take a back seat all winter, two boys stand out and not just because of their height.

Gerry Gerard of L'Anse, a repeater from last year, and Al Inkala of Wakefield were named to the Class C Associated Press All-State High School basketball team.

Both are 6-feet, 5-inches and seniors. Both played for teams undefeated in the regular season. In fact, L'Anse, last year's Class C champion, had a 29-game winning streak extending over two years.

Then Wakefield whipped L'Anse in this year's state tournament. Both boys are considered great rebounders, good at blocking shots, and both are deadly around the basket, taking most of their shots from close in. Gerard holds the edge in shooting, however, averaging 30 points a game. Inkala averaged 23.

Others on the 10-man team are Steve Manville of Flint St. Michael, Bill Beckman of Shelby, Chuck Lay of Leslie, Tim Baughman of Detroit Country Day, Bob Starck of Evart, Harold Love of Detroit Visitation, Mike Hackett of Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart, and Francis Baldwin of North Branch.

Manville is a 6-0 senior who averaged almost 20 points a game. Beckman is 6-2 and averaged 25 points a game and more than 16 rebounds.

Lay, a consistent scorer over three years, averaged 14 points a game and collected an average of 11 rebounds. He stands 6-1.

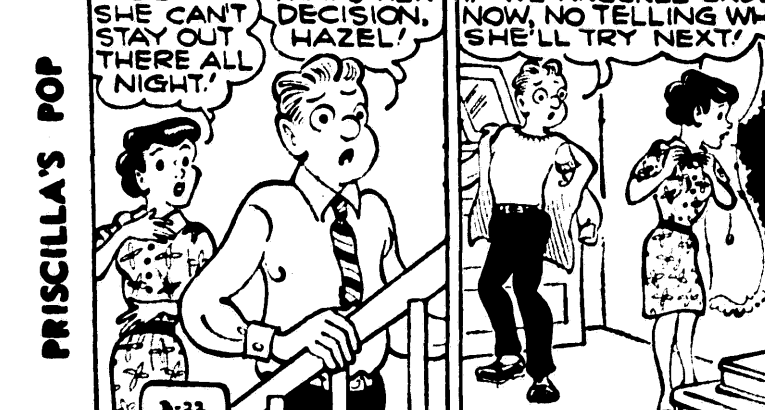

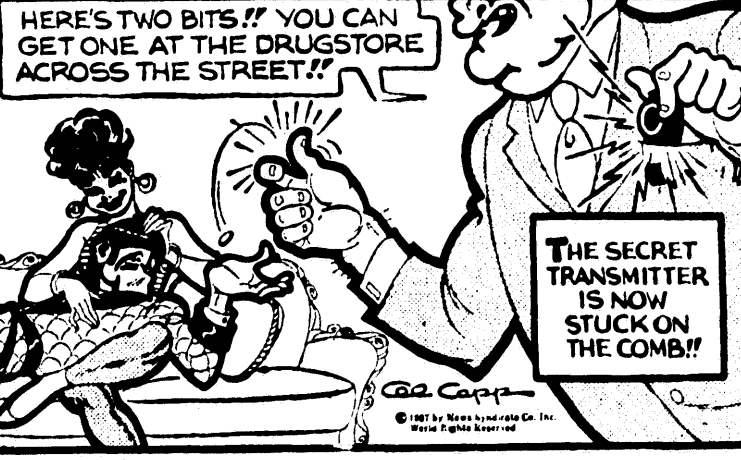

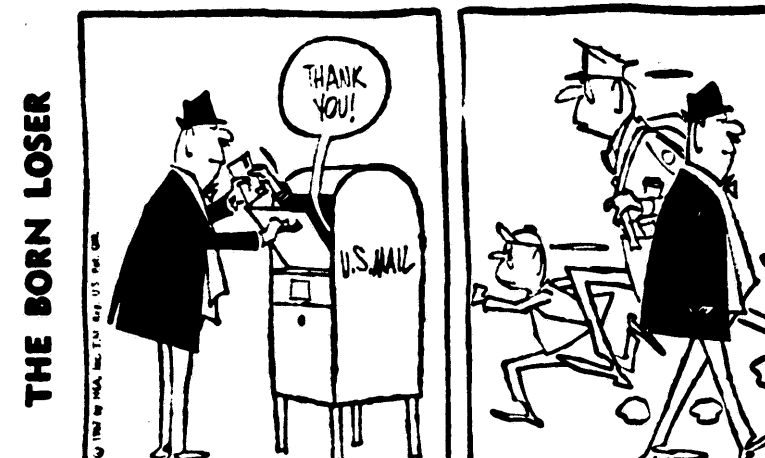

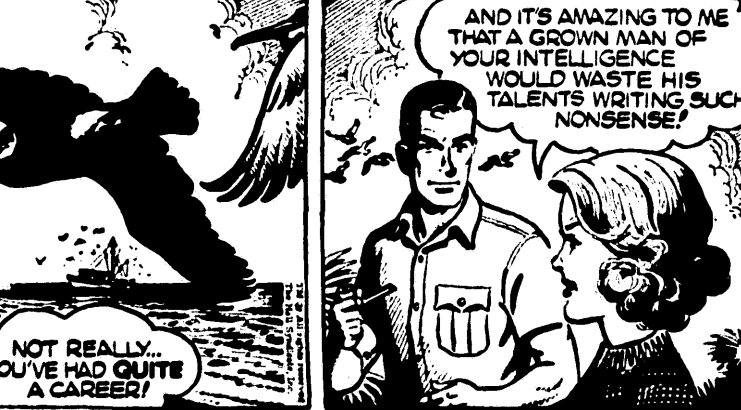

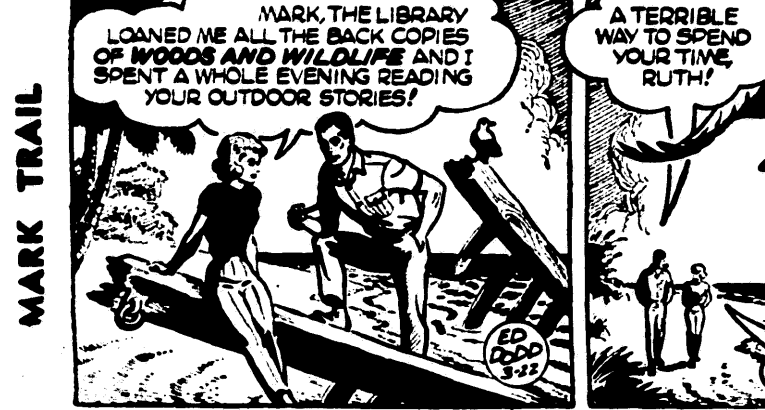

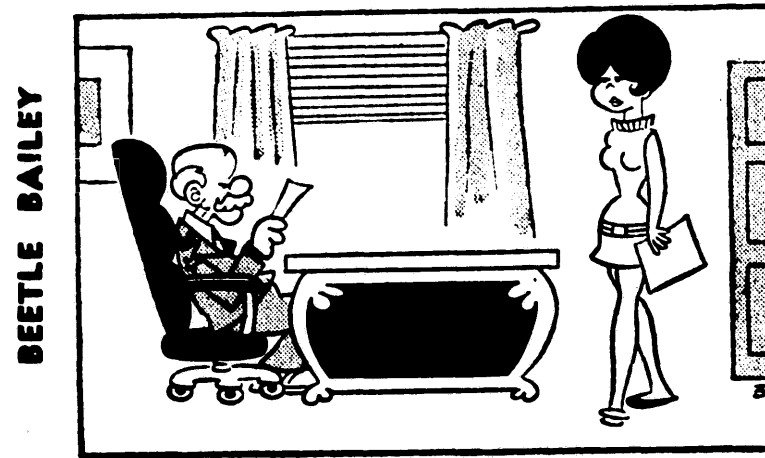

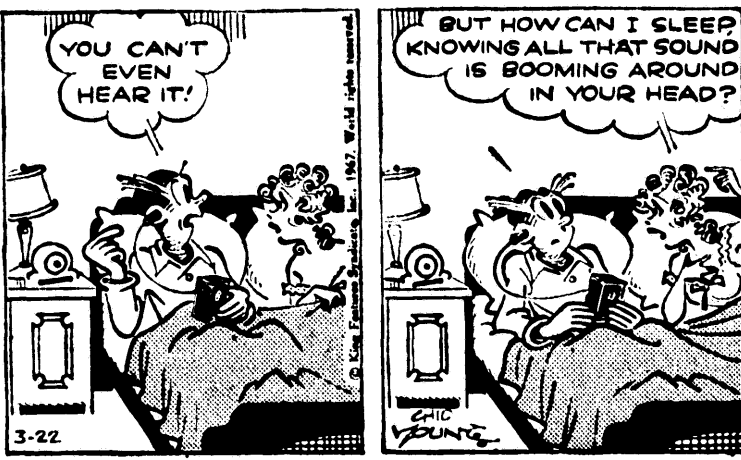

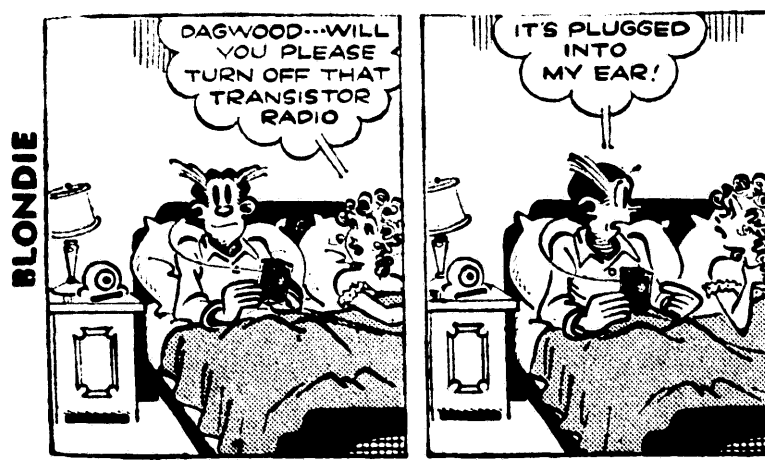

Baughman of Detroit Country Day is a 6-0 honor student who averaged better than 20 points per game. Strack, at 6-3, collected more than 20 rebounds a game and averaged almost 20 points.

Lowe, another 6-3 strong boy, averaged 23 points and nearly 16 rebounds each game. Hackett, who

Days River Closed To Smelt Dipping

Fishing is generally at a standstill throughout the Escanaba Conservation District. The opening of the early rainbow and brown trout season on April 1 in for designated waters only. The waters open April 1 are:

The Great Lakes: Alger County: East Bay, Sec. 4, T49N, R13W; Rock River down from D. S. S. & A. R. R. bridge in Sec. 22, T47N, R21W; Sand River down from the west line of Alger County in Sec. 7, T47N, R22W; Sucker River down from U. S. F. W. S. Lamprey Weir in Sec. 3, T49N, R13W; Laughing Whitefish River down from highway M-28 bridge in Sec. 3, T47N, R22W.

Delta County: Sturgeon River from FFH 13 bridge in Sec. 33, T42N, R19W, down to mouth; Marquette County: Carp River from County Road 553 bridge in Sec. 34, T48N, R25W, down to mouth; Chocoy River from US-41 bridge in Sec. 1, T46N, R24W, down to mouth; Harlow Creek from the Railroad Bridge in Sec. 24, T49N, R26W, down to the mouth; Big Huron River; Iron River; Sand River from bridge on county road 480 in Sec. 14, T47N, R23W, down to Alger County.

Smelt fishermen face a new regulation which will affect many. The Days River between Kipling and Rapid River in Delta County is closed for the dipping of smelt from US-2 downstream to the mouth. This is a new regulation in effect this year and will be strictly enforced by conservation officers. Contact your local conservation officer for listing of other streams open for the taking of smelt.

The portion of the Escanaba River that was open under the quality fishing regulations last year is open to general fishing this year.

All fish shanties must be removed before the ice becomes unsafe. Fishermen are also reminded to remove all bottles and litter which can become a summer beach hazard. Fishermen removing fish shacks and storing them at the Gladstone fish site are reminded that these shacks can be stored there for only 20 days. After this period, it is a violation of the law and the owner will be arrested.

"This has become quite a problem on this particular site when fishermen are putting shacks on the site and leaving them there for two or three months," says Robert W. Timmer, District Conservation Law Supervisor. "Conservation officers are listing the shacks by name of owner, type and color of shack, and date they were put on site. It is your responsibility by law to remove it. If the shack is abandoned on the site, after 20 days it becomes the property of the state and will be disposed of, and the owner will be brought into court."

Chamber Elects Sjoquist Again

Reuben Sjoquist

Reuben Sjoquist, manager of the Eaton, Yale & Towne, Inc., Dynamatic Division plant at Gladstone, was reelected president of the Gladstone Chamber of Commerce at its reorganizational meeting.

Sjoquist has served as president since the resignation of Robert Malnor in July, 1966.

Other officers elected are Arthur Dorn, manager of the J. C. Penney store, vice president, and R. P. Davis, justice of the peace, secretary-treasurer. New directors elected to serve three year terms are Dorn, Dan Finlan and Harry Schoch, replacing August Altesse, Jane Empson and William Noreau, whose terms expired. Other members of the board of directors are Dr. Otto S. Hult, Arthur Pope, Clarence DeLisle, Anita Lewis and Clarence Goodman.

The president will appoint committees for the annual membership drive which gets underway next month.

Plan To Include U.P. In Twister Watch Network

By The Associated Press
The months of spring—April, May and June—not only are months of crocuses and daffodils and daisies. They often are months of terror and violent death in Michigan.
Spring also is the tornado season.
But Michigan is lucky in a way. She has had an average of only about five tornadoes annually over the last 50 years. The Kansas average is some 1,200 a year, but the population is sparse and more spread out there.
Forecasting has been improved and speeded in recent years. The U.S. Weather Bureau is in the process of expanding its teletype network into every city with a daily newspaper or radio or television station.
But Robert Snider, meteorologist in charge at Detroit, says the expanded system likely will not go into operation until some time in June.

At present there are three weather bureau circuits—in Detroit, Lansing and Grand Rapids. Snider says "we'll tie all three together and extend them through the Lower Peninsula and to the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula."
Legs of the system also are expected to dip into northern Indiana and Ohio.
New terminology instituted last year will prevail: when there is a possibility of a tornado in an area a "tornado watch" will be issued for it, and once a twister has formed and is known to the weather bureau, a "tornado warning" will be issued.
Between June 17, 1946, and May 21, 1953, Michigan escaped without a twister. And before 1946, the only previous major death-dealer was one which left 47 dead in Oakland County in 1897.
They have come as early as April 3. On that date in 1956 in the Grand Rapids and Traverse City area 19 were killed, 307 hurt and $11 million damages done.
The state's last killers ripped through on Palm Sunday of 1965, which fell on April 11 that year. They were among 45 that tore across the Midwest that day, killing 50 in southeastern Michigan alone.
Michigan's worst tornado struck Flint June 8, 1953, killing 116, injuring 867, leaving 340 homeless and causing $19 million damage.
Weather experts say tornadoes generally are spawned on hot, sticky days when clouds begin to roll in and the rumble of thunder can be heard in the distance.
In case of a "tornado warning," the experts advise persons inside buildings to stay away from windows and seek shelter in interior hallways or, preferably, in the basement. They say school children should avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums.
For open country the advice is to move away from the tornado's path at a right angle, or lie flat in a ravine or open ditch.

White's Named Awards Station For Fishermen

White's Bait & Tackle shop on US-241 near the Gladstone city limits has been chosen as a State Fishing Awards station by Sports Afield magazine.
The shop is operated by Elmer White.
Purpose of the awards program is to cite meritorious catches by awarding a certificate and also to honor the person landing on sports tackle the largest fish of each species in the state each year. Eligible weights will be posted in the shop. Anglers can register catches within 30 days.

Card of Thanks

Hammar

Death is seldom a welcome guest in anyone's life. However during our recent bereavement, we have experienced an outpouring of sympathy and love from the people of Escanaba and adjacent communities that have amazed us. It has also made us very humble, because we feel entirely unworthy of this esteem. We are, however, grateful for it all, as a tribute to the memory of our wife and mother, Anna S. Hammar.

We wish to express our thanks and gratitude to the many friends who have contributed floral offerings to the many other friends who have contributed to the memorials for our wife and mother. We are grateful to the clergy, Catholic and Protestant, who by their friendship and love, made more real to us the fellowship of the Family of God. We wish to thank Dr. Walfrid Nelson of Bethany Lutheran Church, and the Rev. Mr. Roger Patrow of the Immanuel Lutheran Church for their kind interest and the ladies of these parishes who so graciously offered to serve the lunch.

We are grateful for the steady influence of Rev. Robert Selbert and the membership of Central Methodist Church. To the Rev. Cecil Lutey and the people of Wesley Methodist Church, Ishpeming. We also wish to say "Thank You" to Dr. Arno Whipple and to Dr. E. James Gordon who did so much for us to help us bear the burden and loss of a wife and mother. We include in our expression of gratitude, the pallbearers, the staff of the Anderson Funeral Home, and all others who came to our assistance. The unselfish interest and kindness of the community was a display of people one in spirit, and one in love.

Karl J. Hammar, Rev. & Mrs. Eric S. Hammar, Stephen, David and Judy Ann Hammar

In Memoriam

Gagner

In memory of Adolphus Gagner who passed away 2 years ago today, March 22, 1965.

Peacefully sleeping. Resting at last. The world's weary troubles in silence he suffered. To patience he bore. Till God called him home. He was loving and kind, in all his ways. Upright and just. To the end of his days. Sincere and kind. In heart and mind. What a beautiful memory. He left behind.

Sadly missed by wife, Mrs. Olive Gagner and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gagner and Family

Murchie

In loving memory of our beloved father and grandfather, Robert A. Murchie, who passed away 1 year ago today.
That we would give if we could say,
Hello Dad, in the same old way.
To hear your voice, see your smile.
To sit with you and talk awhile.
To see who have loved you, and cherish them with care.
For you'll never know the heartache,
"Till you see their vacant chair."

So sadly missed and loved by Children and Grandchildren

Johnson-Kennedy Feud Prolonging War Says Ford

LOS ANGELES (AP)—House Republican Leader Gerald Ford Jr. says the disagreement between President Johnson and Democratic Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., on ending the Vietnam war probably is prolonging it.

The Michigan Republican said Monday division among Democrats is increasing with tragic results.

Ford, here for a meeting with GOP leaders and campaign contributors, predicted at a news conference that the 1968 Republican National Convention will be open but without a plethora of favorite-son candidates. No candidate will have victory assured on the first ballot, he said, as did Barry Goldwater in 1964 and Richard Nixon in 1960.

HOME ON leave is Henry P. Dahm, son of Ruby Dahm of 213 N. 9th St., who graduated from Escanaba High School in 1966 and entered the Navy Dec. 22 of the same year. After his 14-day leave he will return to Great Lakes (Ill.) Naval Training Station to enroll in a basic engineering course.

Chivalry Nets Helmet Ticket

EAST LANSING (AP)—James Clyde Burtram's chivalry made him apparently the first person in Michigan to receive a ticket under the new state law requiring helmets for motorcycleists.

Burtram, 18, of Flint, gave his helmet to his girl friend, who was riding with him.

He has pleaded guilty in East Lansing Municipal Court to charges of failure to wear a helmet while riding a motorcycle and paid a $5 fine.

State Police, meanwhile, said they will hold a public hearing in Lansing March 30 on proposed state standards for safety helmets.

The law requiring helmets went into effect March 10, but standards for the helmets have not yet been approved.

Bald Eagle Is Scarce In U.P., Once Homeland

Mrs. William Taylor, ornithologist of Ford River, said last week the bald eagles are nesting here now "if there are any about."

Inquiries indicate that the majestic big birds are more scarce in this area than they have ever been before. Until a few years ago they were quite commonplace in large wooded areas.

Joseph Vogt, Conservation Department game biologist, says that Richard Aartila of Negaunee, game habitat biologist of the department in this district, and John Snyder, department flier, saw no eagles in a flight from Cedar River to St. Ignace on Jan. 12 along the shore of Green Bay and Lake Michigan.

On Jan. 26, however, Vogt saw a bald eagle beside U. S. 2 in western Mackinac County.

Alarming Decrease
The National Geographic Society says the population of this bird has declined alarmingly before the encroachment of civilization in recent years.

On the eastern seaboard housing developments have leveled many of the eagle's nesting grounds. The species flourishes only in Florida and Alaska.

Though protected by federal law, the bald eagle makes an enticing target. Too often, trigger-happy hunters have mistakenly killed young eagles, assuming that they were "only hawks". Studies indicate also that the widespread use of pesticides has resulted in the poisoning of fish. In turn, fish-eating eagles may be poisoned or made sterile.

The Interior Department has taken vigorous measures to protect the handsome birds with snow-white head and tail coverings and brown plumage. Nesting sites in national wildlife refuges are closely guarded and closed to the public during the nesting season. Timber cutting in refuges is forbidden within half a mile of nests. Interior officials urge timber and power companies throughout the country to respect eagle nests.

Mate For Life

The bald eagle mates for life, and returns each year to its huge home in a tall treetop.

A firm believer in home improvement, Old Baldy, repairs and expands his nest with sticks and grass year after year. The eyrie finally may weigh a ton and measure 10 feet across.

Bald eagles show a flair for interior decoration. A nest found in Florida was furnished with human clothing, a tennis shoe, laundry-bleach bottle, gunnysack, photographer's flashbulb, and a copy of a weekly magazine. A pair of eagles in a zoo once set up housekeeping in a nest made largely of torn popcorn boxes and peanut bags.

Baldy's other great talent is fishing. He glides effortlessly above the water to spot prey, then sets wings for a long diagonal glide, skims the surface, and dips extended talons into the water to make a catch.

A bald eagle named Old Abe became a national hero during the Civil War. As mascot of a Wisconsin regiment, it survived 42 engagements. Though a constant target for enemy riflemen, Old Abe lost only a few feathers.

World's lightest wood is said to be bano, which is found in Thailand and the Malayan Peninsula.

Latin Shouters Ordered To Take Psychiatric Test

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit judge has ordered psychiatric examinations for a father and daughter who are accused for the second time of disturbing a church service by shouting Latin responses at an English language mass.

Recorder's Judge Samuel H. Olsen ordered 58-year-old John Tamplin and his daughter Margaret, 19, of Hazel Park, to report for testing in the court's psychiatric clinic on March 28.

During the Tamplin's examination Monday, witnesses testified that they disturbed a mass at St. Rita's Catholic Church in Detroit on March 3. A few weeks before that, the prosecution dropped charges against Tamplin and his daughter for a similar incident at the same church.

The two are charged with conspiracy to disturb a religious meeting, and with disturbing the peace. After their psychiatric examination, the Tamplins are to appear again before Olsen on April 19.
